

CA Database Management for DB2 for z/OS Solution Implementation & Conversion

Enable a lower TCO by Automating and Simplifying Database Management

Reduce the effort and risk of manually managing DB2 databases and capitalize on CA's ability to manage databases across the enterprise. CA can assist you with development of a comprehensive strategy to take command of your database infrastructure. CA Services can accelerate the time-to-value of your CA Database Management for DB2 for z/OS deployment with a wide array of service offerings and education. Count on extensive experience and proven methodologies to streamline and automate performance management, administration and backup & recovery processes for DB2 for z/OS.

Supporting Your Business

Leverage the skills of CA Services consultants to design, configure and deploy CA Database Management for DB2 for z/OS software components and help you improve the management of your DB2 for z/OS databases. Using a well-defined project methodology and best practices you can be confident of a smooth implementation that delivers business value throughout all phases of your implementation. Benefit from partnering with the leading independent software provider in the mainframe market space while lowering your TCO by standardizing with CA's extensive portfolio of solutions.

Delivering Business Value

The CA Database Management for DB2 for z/OS Solution Implementation:

- Provides fast conversion and deployment with reduced risk and improved quality
- Aligns CA Database Management for DB2 for z/OS capabilities and integrations to your requirements
- Helps you leverage CA Database Management for DB2 for z/OS to reduce inefficiencies and risks of manually managing DB2 databases
- Automate repetitive labor intensive database administration tasks
- Optimizes CA Database Management for DB2 for z/OS database and application performance
- Automates and verifies repeatable backup & recovery processes

