

CA Application Performance Management (CA APM) Application Onboarding Five-Pack Service

At a Glance

Once you invest in CA Application Performance Management (CA APM), how can you ramp up the application onboarding process? You want to meet your goal of improving user experience by monitoring applications, but diverting IT talent with the time and appropriate skills shifts focus from your core business.

CA Services offers the CA Application Onboarding Five-Pack service, which makes it easier for you to get your applications under the power of CA APM as quickly as possible. Now, you can onboard five applications of varying sizes, often in 90 days or less, without breaking your budget.

Once a five-pack of applications is complete, select and schedule a new set to fit your priorities and timetable. CA Services works with CA Application Management Services to get you on a faster path to value with access to highly-skilled CA professionals across the organization who have unsurpassed knowledge of CA solutions. Our teams will onboard your applications using a systematic approach to get you on the fast track to the benefits you expect from your solution investment.
